About Ariel Way, Inc.

Ariel Way is a technology and services company providing highly secure global communications solutions. The company is focused on developing innovative and secure technologies, acquiring and growing profitable advanced technology companies and global communications service providers. The company also intends to create strategic alliances with companies with complementary product lines and service industries. The technology development effort for highly secure communications solutions and services is conducted by a wholly owned subsidiary, Enfotec, Inc.

Enfotec designs, manufactures and markets high-speed security appliances that integrate a virtual private network (VPN) with a firewall, intrusion detection capabilities, anti-virus and management in a single network appliance. Enfotec's EN Security Appliance and Custom Security Appliance products feature hardware-based technology that delivers true wire-line data speed performance and the highest level of security achievable. Enfotec's products are differentiated from other security appliances that require proprietary, expensive customized semiconductor chips, operating systems and computer databases. Enfotec's firmware and software technologies use standard off-the-shelf components combined with the Linux operating system to provide customers performance levels never before realized in a non-proprietary, cost-effective, hardware-based security appliance.

Ariel Way has signed letters of intent with potential acquisition candidates. If such acquisitions are completed, which cannot be assured, it will add synergistic advanced technology and software development companies and communications services and solutions organizations. This may include advanced technology and engineering companies that have strong run rate revenues with the potential for accelerated growth by leveraging their technology with other Ariel Way portfolio companies.
